

Occupational Health & Safety

We ensure our employees safety

General

- Controls aspects of work processes involving any form of danger or risk that may result in injury or harm
- Therefore it's important to ensure employees safety and healthy work environment
- In Germany the „Occupational Health & Safety“ topic is covered by the Labor Protection Law (ger. „Arbeitsschutzgesetz“ or short „ArbSchG“).

How can this be accomplished?

We are providing our employees with best safety equipment on the market in combination with safety training. Furthermore warning signs are a huge deal in covering safety issues, due to its potential to transmit the information very quick in an understandable manner, thus are finding a lot of use in Baufuchs GmbH.

Another important aspect of OH & S is taking breaks. Breaks are the best way to maintain the healthy state of our employees. In that way we make sure all of our employees are recovered and have as little work related health issues as possible.

We ensure that our employees are not only physically healthy but mentally as well. Avoiding overtime and stress at work are the main ways for solving such issues. Accurate planning helps us to avoid these problems.
